When it comes to quality, value, and tradition, nothing compares to the simple goodness of Carmelina 'e...San Marzano® Italian Tomatoes. Under the shadow of Mount Vesuvius, Carmelina 'e...San Marzano® tomatoes are grown in the southern regions of Italy, including Campania, recognized throughout the world as The Italian Tomato Heartland.

Carmelina 'e...San Marzano® features an elongated, full-bodied Italian tomato that is vine ripened to maturity. The sweet flavor and deep red color of Carmelina 'e...San Marzano® Italian Tomatoes are a product of the rich volcanic soil and ideal growing seasons of the region. Carmelina 'e...San Marzano® Italian Tomatoes are sweeter, have a meatier pulp, are less acidic, and have fewer seeds than your average plum variety.

During harvest, Carmelina 'e...San Marzano® Italian Tomatoes transport from field to factory within hours. The skins of these magnificent fruit are removed using a pneumatic steam peeler, and packed fresh in their own puree without the addition of preservatives, like calcium chloride or citric acid. This artisan production process ensures discerning customers receive only the freshest and cleanest tomatoes. This unique combination of quality and flavor cannot be duplicated in any other region of the world.

Carmelina 'e...San Marzano® Italian Tomatoes are as close to the earth as you can be without getting your hands dirty.
